

Questions to be discussed in Workshop 7

Given where we are, what would give you a sense of satisfaction or completion by the time last class is over?

What do we have to do to complete the map?

What will it take to do that?

How can we get it done?

What do we do once the map is done?

At what point do we present it to the public?

How do we present it to the public?

How do we distribute it to the people who will find it valuable?

How do we carry on updating the map in the future?

What future directions should the mapping project take?

Should we give a decal for the Economy for Our Common Good Organizations to display?

Should we bring all of the organizations on the map together?

How can they support each other?

Should we set it up in story map and make a kind of documentary with it?

How can we help other communities in our area do a similar mapping project?

Should we connect with our neighboring regions to establish a regional Solidarity Economy?

Should we connect the map with the US Solidarity Economy Map?

Should we have a party with some of the Interviewees to discuss the future of the project?
